Person 1 : Weh , have you heard the news today?? A famous PU that get caught cuz of sex assaulting !!!

Person 2 : what ? How can that be possible ??

Person 3 : Nowadays Ustaz also cannot be trusted , haihh shame on our holy religion!!

Person 1 : Bro why u say like that ??? We cannot judge someone by their religion !! I know as a Muslim we all judge to some extent is a part of our fitrah !! In Surah An Najm Allah said " So leave them to converse vainly and amuse themselves until they meet their day , which they are promised " so I think it's not fair let Allah do the rest therefore what we can do is just doa for the victim and help instead.

Person 2 : yea man that's true but I think the victim really need justice because some of the people in social media being bias just because the Ustaz really give a lot of contribution to the religion !

Person 3 : nah bro that can't be true the Ustaz really have to be suspended and take the allegations!! We should not use the power of religious here WRONG MEANS WRONG MAN !

Person 3 : "That's the thing, though—justice isn't just about punishing wrongs. It's about creating a space where people feel heard and supported. The people shouldn't have to defend the ustaz alone.

PERSON 1 : Chill guys it already mention on the internet he was sentenced to be jailed 24 years and two strokes of rotan . Rotan !!!! Guys Rotannnnn hehehe.

Person 2 : anyways have u ever think why hes doing that ??

Person 1 : it's just an attitude man sometimes if u think u are the influence to people with your fine looks and purest act you will be immortal of doing anything , and yea it started to take advantage of it

Person 3 : Exactly. It starts with us, though. Maybe instead of we just giving opinion , we can make an effort to address these things when they happen, not just afterward. It all comes back to empathy. If we can make the effort to understand people instead of judging or exploiting them, we can make a real difference .
